

Intelligence

29TH INTELLIGENCE SQUADRON

1. Mission. The 29th Intelligence Squadron (29 IS) is an operational component of the 694th Intelligence Group (694 IG), influencing decisive information operations that shape the battle space environment. The squadron tasks, conducts operations on, and provides effective organization, control, technical guidance, and support of intelligence collection and processing activities in support Department of Defense (DoD) and other authorized organizations as an integral part of the National Security Agency (NSA). It is specialized and consists of teams of intelligence professionals who support global reach, focus global power, and secure and maintain information dominance by conducting operations to test and evaluate new equipment and systems. The 29 IS implements NSA/Central Security Services (CSS) policies, standards, and procedures for the control of compromising emanations as they relate to intelligence equipment. The 29 IS performs information operations through multiple sources for national, theater, and tactical customers.

2. Command. The 29 IS Commander (29 IS/CC):

- 2.1. Is subordinate to the 694 IG Commander (694 IG/CC).
- 2.2. Oversees administrative support of assigned flights within NSA.
- 2.3. Influences the collection, analysis, production, and intelligence activity within NSA.

3. Responsibilities. The 29 IS/CC:

- 3.1. Exercises command and control of 694 IG personnel dispersed among the 29 IS flights.
- 3.2. Provides operational support, in liaison with the 694 IG, to all squadron members involved in NSA activities as needed.
- 3.3. Coordinates with appropriate elements within groups in NSA to present orientation briefings and support to supervisors of squadron members.
- 3.4. Executes duties as necessary, or as directed by higher headquarters.

JAMES J. ROMANO, Col, USAF
Director of Plans and Requirements